The Division of Victim Services (DVS) mission statement is to improve the treatment of all victims of crime by providing them with the assistance and services essential to their restoration. The DVS administers programs dedicated to serving crime victims. The DVS assists victims of crime, provide awareness, education and training to the general community, and support legislative, judicial and social reforms beneficial to crime victims. The DVS believes the criminal justice system and allied agencies must ultimately be measured by their treatment of victims, for that goal will surely best serve society. The DVS administers the Wyoming Crime Victim Compensation Program (CVCP) that provides financial assistance to hundreds of victims each year that have suffered personal injury as a result of a criminal act and administers federal Victim of Crime Act (VOCA) funds, Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) funds, Family Violence Preventions Act (FVPSA) funds, as well as state general funds to service providers, either by formula or non-formula distribution. These funds support victim/witness programs, family violence shelter service programs and specialized crime victim assistance programs in every county in Wyoming.

The mission of the Enhanced and Improved Oil Recovery Commission (EORC), in conjunction with the Enhanced Oil Recovery Institute (EORI) at the University of Wyoming and the oil and gas, industry, is to facilitate a meaningful and measurable increase in recoverable reserves and production of oil and natural gas in Wyoming that may otherwise not be realized. Key to this is the effective and efficient transfer of relevant technology, information and knowledge to Wyoming producers. EORC believes that its mission is being met when producers consider EORI as a vital source of relevant technology, information, expertise and knowledge for Wyoming fields.

The Family Services Department Advisory Council operates in conjunction with the Department of Family Services (W.S. 9-2-2106). The Council's mission is to provide program support, guidance, advocacy, feedback and act as a liaison to the Department, functions which are guided by the Department's own mission statement. Most members are appointed by the Governor to serve three-year terms. The Senate President and Speaker of the House each appoint one member from the Legislature.

The Assistance Division provides services to individuals and families to help them achieve self-sufficiency and social well being. Services are provided directly by department personnel, and/or through collaborations or contracts with other community agencies. The Assistance Division includes programs that can help individuals with eligibility for food assistance (Supplemental Nutritional Assistance Program or SNAP), job opportunities for those with dependent children (Personal Opportunities With Employment Responsibilities or POWER), and Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF). It also assists with the Foster Care (IV-E Eligibility Program), and Child Care subsidies. The Division administers the Child Care Development Fund (CCDF) to help low-income families with the cost of child care and improved access to child care. The Child Support Program provides services to assure that all children receive financial and medical support from both parents. The State Disbursement Unit (SDU) receives child support payments and distributes them to custodial parents and their children. The Homeless Services Program is implementing the ten-year plan to reduce homelessness. It also oversees the Homeless Management Information System (HMIS), and manages the Emergency Solutions Grant (ESG). The Home Support Unit (Low Income Energy Assistance Program or LIEAP) provides financial assistance for low-income individuals and families who need help paying their energy bills. The Weatherization program, provides home weatherization to those with low-income who need home improvements to reduce energy costs.

Social Services resides within the Services Division and is responsible for the court ordered supervision of adjudicated delinquents and children in need of supervision (CHINS). Juvenile probation officers monitor youth in crisis or in need of services. Juveniles Services staff oversee the Wyoming Boys' School and Wyoming Girls' School. In addition, the Division oversees the central registry, a database of substantiated abuse and neglect perpetrators, and the creation of community juvenile service boards. Social Services' primary goal is to ensure children and vulnerable adults are safe. The Division is required by law to investigate allegations of abuse and neglect and then provide services to those who have been abused and neglected. Services can include foster care, in-home services and, if needed, residential treatment centers. Those services address issues stemming from emotional and physiological trauma. For vulnerable adults, including elders and those who have developmental delays, the Social Service workers connect those adults, caregivers and families with services and referrals within the community to help create or maintain a safe living environment. To report neglect or abuse, call your local field office, the contact for which is listed under Family Services, Offices in Communities. Clinical Services also resides within the Services Division and is charged with ensuring the proper provision of clinical, medical, pharmacological, therapeutic, and psychosexual services to children and adults in DFS custody. It houses the Substitute Care Licensing Unit as well which enforces the substitute care rules for all congregate care facilities in the state while also providing training and guidance of the facilities and entities that have licenses. In addition, Clinical Services works to ensure the safety of children in out-of-home care facilities.

Each of the state’s four water divisions is represented by a Groundwater Advisory Committee. Each Committee comprises three persons, appointed by the Governor, who represent the landowners and water users of their respective water division, the geographical areas of that division, and the public interest. Committee members serve a six-year term and no political split is required. The duties of each Committee are to assist and advise the State Engineer and Board of Control regarding policies that affect groundwater, provide that information to groundwater users within their Division, and arrive at solutions to groundwater problems as they arise within their respective water Division. The Committees also provide advice and assistance to the Control Area Advisory Boards, and call and supervise the election of the members of the Control Area Advisory Boards. The Committees operate in conjunction with the State Engineer’s Office (W.S. 41-3-908).

The Groundwater Control Area Advisory Boards advise and assist the State Engineer and Board of Control in formulating policies and recommendations on applications and petitions associated with groundwater development in a Control Area. A Control Area serves the function of a groundwater management district. Each Control Area Advisory Board comprises five individuals who own land within the Control Area. Board members are elected to four-year terms by land owners within the Control Area. Members may serve two consecutive terms and no political split is required. The Control Area Advisory Boards operate in conjunction with the State Engineer's Office (W.S. 41-3-912 through W.S. 41-3-915).

The Wyoming Honor Conservation Camp houses both a minimum security forestry camp for adult male offenders and a close custody youthful offender boot camp program. Inmates assigned to the conservation camp work in a variety of jobs both on-site and in conjunction with the Wyoming State Forestry Division. The forestry crews fight wild land fires in Wyoming and South Dakota as well as provide forestry management on state lands and community service projects for various governmental agencies. Programming and educational services are available for all custody level inmates. The Wyoming Boot Camp Program (WBC) is a diversionary incarceration program for youthful male offenders who have not attained the age of 25 and have not previously been incarcerated in an adult correctional institution. The Wyoming Boot Camp provides an alternative to long-term incarceration with a 180-day, intense paramilitary program with an emphasis on education and programming.

Created through W.S. 35-12-104, the Industrial Siting Council reviews the socio-economic and environmental impacts of industrial facilities before making a decision on the issuance of a permit for construction. Typical permit holders are power plants, refineries, windfarms, and mines. Parties to a permit typically include the towns, cities, and counties in the area of the project. Emphasis is placed upon socio-economic impacts. The Industrial Siting Division of the Department of Environmental Quality administers the Wyoming Industrial Development Information and Siting Act under Chapters 1 and 2, Rules and Regulations of the Industrial Siting Council.

The State Advisory Council on Juvenile Justice (SACJJ) is the statewide resource for the Governor, Legislature, and communities in the fields of juvenile justice, youth services, and delinquency prevention. The State Advisory Council on Juvenile Justice assists in reviewing, recommending existing and new, applicable research and outcome-based juvenile accountability programs and strategies ranging from prevention and intervention to long-term detention or treatment programs for youth. In addition, the SACJJ supports and facilitates the allocation and use of Juvenile Accountability Block Grant (JABG) and other state/federal monies to assist communities in providing a range of programs and services preventing and reducing juvenile delinquency. The SACJJ does this in partnership with families, schools, communities, law enforcement and other agencies and is committed to collaborating with other organizations to create a Juvenile Information System to collect, produce and analyze data to better evaluate existing strategies and services. The SACJJ is committed to a balanced approach increasing public safety, providing both agency and offender accountability, while affording youth opportunities to develop as responsible citizen. The SACJJ operates in conjunction with the Department of Family Services.

The Wyoming Medium Correctional Institution (WMCI) is a medium security men's facility. It serves as the primary intake and assessment center for male inmates not sentenced to death. WMCI has been designed to serve those inmates with the high needs of protective custody, medical, mental, health, dental, substance abuse, life skills, cognitive/behavioral, and/or sex offender treatment services. It will also focus on education and vocational skills so that inmates can have a skill to make a livable wage when they reenter society. In addition, it houses the Department's initial reception and assessment process for all male offenders within the adult correctional system. The facility opened in January 2010 with a capacity of 720 beds.

Located 70 miles from Yellowstone National Park, Northwest College is a two-year, residential college offering transfer and technical programs of study that blend traditional arts and sciences with emerging technologies. Opening in 1946, Northwest College is the second oldest of Wyoming's seven community colleges. Its governing body is composed of a seven-person Board of Trustees whose members are elected in Park County. Today, approximately 2,000 full-time and part-time students study on a modern campus with nearly 60 buildings on 124 acres in Powell, at two outreach centers, and through the Internet and interactive television. A stimulating residential campus and special learning opportunities such as field studies abroad and workforce training provide rich and varied learning activities. The college boasts more than 20,000 alumni, defined by the NWC Alumni Association as completing at least one semester as a full-time student. Northwest College is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools (www.ncacihe.org).

In 1996, the State Legislature enacted a law allowing certain state government agencies to collect voluntary donations on recreational licenses and registrations (hunting, fishing, snowmobiles, boats, etc.). Funds collected are distributed to counties as reimbursement for operational costs incurred performing search and rescue missions. The Wyoming Office of Homeland Security serves as the account manager and operates using guidance from W.S. 19, Chapter 13, Article 3, and the Wyoming Search and Rescue (SAR) Council. Council members are appointed by the Governor and are represented by law enforcement, a county commissioner, search and rescue volunteers, and the public at large. By statute, the Wyoming Office of Homeland Security Director serves as Executive Secretary to the Council. The Council meets at least twice annually.

The State Trail Advisory Council serves as a representative voice for the appropriate and diverse use of Wyoming's trail resources (W.S. 36-4-108). Their primary duties include advising the Department of State Parks and Cultural Resources regarding priorities for managing the snowmobile trails fund and the off-road recreational vehicle (ORV) fund. They also advise regarding application guidelines and distributions of grant funds from the federal Recreation Trails Program (RTP) grant program. The Council evenly represents motorized and non-motorized trail users. Additionally, the ten positions represent specific trail use activities such as snowmobiling, all terrain vehicles (ATV's), off-highway motorcycles, equestrians, hiking, bicycling, cross-country skiing or multiple uses. Therefore, members are very much in-touch with the constituents they represent and are able to provide extremely valuable information both to the operation of the Council, as well as to the planning process. The Council operates in conjunction with the Department of State Parks and Cultural Resources (W.S. 36-4-108).

Construction and maintenance of the state's highway system are the primary responsibilities for the Wyoming Department of Transportation (WYDOT). That includes enforcement of traffic laws, collecting highway user tax revenues, administration of driver licensing, commercial vehicle regulation and motor vehicle registration and titling. Functions assigned to the Aeronautics Commission are a part of the WYDOT program. The Transportation Commission provides candidates for gubernatorial consideration, and the Director is appointed by the Governor with Senate approval.

The Oregon Trail State Veterans Cemetery was established in 1983 and is located in Evansville. The Wyoming Veterans Commission, as part of the Wyoming Military Department, supervises and controls this cemetery. Every veteran who receives any discharge, other than dishonorable, from the U.S. Armed Forces is eligible for burial at the Oregon Trail State Veterans Cemetery. The spouse and handicapped or minor child of an eligible veteran may also qualify for burial providing that the qualifying family member is in the same burial plot as that provided for the veteran. For more information, call or visit our website.

The Wyoming Wildlife and Natural Resource Trust (WWNRT) was created in 2005. It is an independent state agency governed by a nine-member citizen board appointed by the Governor. The purpose of the program is to enhance and conserve wildlife habitat and natural resource values throughout the state. Any project designed to improve wildlife habitat or natural resource value is eligible for funding. There are six categories of projects funded by the Wildlife and Natural Resource Trust: invasives, river, wetlands, range, water and conservation easements. Over 600 projects in all 23 counties in the State of Wyoming have been completed. The Wildlife and Natural Resource Trust aims to maintain the special open spaces found in Wyoming and allow future generations of Wyomingites the ability to preserve the legacy of the West.

The Wyoming Women's Center (WWC) is a full service, secure correctional facility for female felons. It is the sole adult female facility in the State of Wyoming. Established by the Wyoming Legislature it was built in 1984 at a cost of $9 million with a design capacity for 84 inmates. The institution is located on 71 acres of state property. Expansion of the facility was completed in 2007, increasing the capacity to confine 295 inmates. The facility houses all security levels, minimum through maximum. WWC offers programming that addresses the assessed needs of the female felon. These include, but are not limited to, the following: living skills, drug, co-dependency, parenting, assertiveness, anger management and recovery groups dealing with emotional, physical and sexual abuse. The WWC also has a self-contained 54-bed intensive treatment unit (ITU) for the treatment of addiction. The ITU is a highly structured long term program based upon the therapeutic community treatment model. The program is tailored to provide gender specific services and is funded with a combination of state and federal resources.
