Secretary Gray Reiterates Election Integrity Agenda as 2025 General Session Approaches

CHEYENNE, WY – As the 68th Legislature convenes for the 2025 General Session on January 14th, Secretary of State Chuck Gray welcomes all legislators to Cheyenne. As previously announced in a press conference in December, Secretary Gray reiterated a conservative election integrity reform agenda in the following key areas, and more:

- Requiring proof of citizenship and residency for registering to vote;
- Banning ballot drop boxes in the State of Wyoming;
- Strengthening Wyoming's Voter ID Statute;
- Banning ballot harvesting;
- Imposing a durational residency requirement to vote in Wyoming;
- Banning Zuck Bucks in Wyoming;
- Instituting voter list maintenance to ensure clean voter rolls;
- Paper ballots, hand audits, and counts of elections;
- Banning ranked-choice voting in the State of Wyoming;
- Banning foreign funding of elections and ballot measures;

“I’ve committed our administration to continuing to advance election integrity,” Secretary Gray said in a statement. “As part of that effort, for the upcoming 2025 General Session, we have launched a conservative election integrity agenda to ensure that we reach our full potential in advancing these goals.”
