Secretary Gray, Senator Lummis Submit Amicus Curiae Brief before United States Supreme Court in Opposition to the CTA

CHEYENNE, WY – On January 10, Wyoming Secretary of State Chuck Gray and United States Senator Cynthia Lummis filed an Amicus Curiae brief with the Supreme Court of the United States, arguing that the Supreme Court should continue to block enforcement of the Corporate Transparency Act.

In a statement, Secretary Gray said, “I have been clear in my opposition to the CTA and its implementation, which is an unconstitutional intrusion hurting small business owners across our country, including Wyoming. It is up to all levels of government to push back against unconstitutional intrusions, and I want to thank Senator Lummis and her team for partnering with us on this very important issue. I hope the Supreme Court continues to block enforcement of the CTA.”

In a statement, Senator Lummis said, “The last thing business owners in Wyoming need after surviving four years of the Biden administration are more attacks on their small businesses, privacy and constitutional rights. Small businesses are the backbone of the Cowboy State, yet the federal government’s murky at best requirements are setting them up to fail, not thrive. I am partnering with Secretary Gray to defend our small businesses from this egregious overreach.”
