Secretary Gray Discusses Charlie Kirk's Legacy and the Future of the Conservative Movement at Turning Point Kickoff Meeting at LCCC

CHEYENNE, WY – On Wednesday evening, Secretary Gray spoke to students at the kickoff event for the Laramie County Community College (LCCC) Turning Point Chapter in Cheyenne. His remarks were focused on key lessons from Charlie Kirk's life, the future of the conservative movement in Wyoming, and how it is so important to continue the legacy of Charlie Kirk.

"I really appreciated last night's Turning Point launch event for the new Turning Point chapter at LCCC," Secretary Gray said. This is a huge moment for Laramie County and for our entire state. These students are doing great work in advancing American values and in continuing Charlie Kirk's work. We must continue Charlie Kirk's legacy."
