Secretary of State's Statement on the Wyoming House of Representatives' Passage of House Bill 103

Cheyenne, WY – On February 2nd, the Wyoming House of Representatives passed House Bill 103 “Political party affiliation declaration and changes,” sponsored by Representative Jeremy Haroldson. The third reading vote was 51-9.

“I commend the Wyoming House of Representatives on the passage of House Bill 103,” Secretary of State Chuck Gray said. “As written, HB 103 will stop the recurrent problem of crossover voting, a process which has undermined the sanctity of Wyoming’s primary process. Ending crossover voting and protecting the integrity of the primary election process has been a key legislative priority this Session, and I couldn’t be more excited by its passage on third reading today.”

House Bill 103 has been introduced in the Wyoming Senate, and has been referred to the Senate Corporations Committee.
